MESSAGE FROM ALLISON

So I have finally retired after 44 years in the financial sector (well apart from my Seamer Parish Clerk job of course!), and I am looking forward to spending more time playing golf, keeping fit and with my family. I am keen to do some walking and wondered if anyone could suggest a group, as I'm not too good with a map. I want to do some challenging walks circa 10 miles per day, like the Cleveland Way, which I have started and would like to complete and Hadrians wall as examples. If you have any contacts please can you email me. Thank you .

MAKING OUR VILLAGE A BETTER PLACE TO LIVE.

You may be aware that the village has the benefit of a community fund which is money given to us from the windfarm. This money is available to improve the village and the life of its residents. It is under utilised and the Parish Council are very keen to hear ideas from residents about how we can spend this fund. An application form can be found on the village web site. <http://seamervillage.co.uk/>

Please apply before committing to funds. This can include anything e.g. events, activities, aesthetics of the village. We also have contributions from any new house builds, called the Community Infrastructure Levy (CIL) which can be spent on infrastructure. We are talking a few thousand pounds here so cannot commit to large projects, but if you have any suggestions please let us know.

We discussed erection of the bus shelter – resolved to pay for and take delivery of the shelter and to contact a further authorised contractor for a quote.

Discussed provision of services to young school age children in the village. Proposed further contact with residents to be made via Grapevine to engage with the youngsters. A meeting is to be arranged to hear their ideas.

The council discussed this matter (without Councillor Marshall present who declared an interest). Whilst in principle they supported the application they reverted to comments on previous applications about the sustainability of the village and wanted to limit the number of properties to be built. They also wanted consideration to be made for footpaths, retention of existing boundaries (greenery, trees and hedges) and suggested that a public space e.g. Playground could be included in the plans.

SEAMER PARISH COUNCIL MEETING - MAY 2024

We wish to provide advance notice of a change in the normal date of the parish council in May 2024.

This will take place on Tuesday 7th May @ 7pm.

HELP REQUIRED PLEASE

As some of you may know, our village gardener has had an accident and is out of action for quite a while. As a result, the Parish Council is asking for volunteers to help with the planting/maintaining of this year's flower tubs.

The plants have been ordered and will arrive around the middle of May.

Volunteers are needed for clearing old plants and debris from planters, to replenish soil and feed and installing the plants the following day (dates to be confirmed).

Over the summer, we would also like to ask that anyone who has flower barrels near to their property, could they keep an eye on them and water when needed (with our present weather not an arduous task!!!).

If anyone would like to help, please let the PC Clerk know by emailing allison.seamerpcc@oulook.com

Editor (Dave): I will do the one near the Pond! And the garden near the boundary sign.

SHORTCUT THROUGH METHODIST CHURCH GROUNDS

Many residents will have used the shortcut through the Methodist Church grounds between the main road and back alley, and we have no objection to that practice continuing. However, it is not an official Right of Way which places responsibilities on the landowner for maintenance, safety etc. To this end, it has brought to our notice that this practice can only continue if for one day of the year, access to this shortcut is prohibited. We will be doing this once a date has been fixed and measures are in place to do it.

We are very sorry and hope any inconvenience caused will be minimal.

SPEEDWATCH

Speedwatch is now back! The number of volunteers has fallen so it may only be once a week. If you would like to join us and give about an hour a week then you would be very welcome. It is also an opportunity to have a chat with fellow residents and catch up on news!

The VAS (vehicle activated sign) has now moved onto Crathorne and will be back with us in late May. The latest results do show what looks like a big improvement in all figures for Seamer Village. But perhaps the fact that the weather was atrocious for nearly all the time was responsible for the more careful driving.

Tame bridge also overall showed a noticeable improvement in most respects but two points should be noted:

1. On the first day of its use, there were speeds of 80 (1), 75 (4), 70 (2), 65 (3) and numerous 60mph recorded throughout the day. This would seem to indicate VAS has an impact as throughout the rest of the 21 days it was in Tame Bridge there was only one other instance of 80 mph (late night) and whilst 60 mph was common speeds above this were rare. Still not good but better!

2. There appears to have been a big increase in the number of vehicles passing through Tame Bridge towards Stokesley on a Wednesday. Anyone have any ideas? Contact Dave on 01642 710320

THE MANOR FARM DIARIES.

Firstly, let me introduce myself. I am Matthew Nichols, the 5th generation of the Nichols family to farm here at Manor Farm, just on the South East edge of Seamer Village.

I have recently turned 31 years old, married to Kate Nichols with baby number one on the way (due 19th April), passionate about agriculture, food production and the future of agriculture in this country.

The farm was bought back in 1908 by the late Howard Nichols of Greystones Farm. Howard opened a couple of sand and gravel quarries in Seamer and farmed across both Greystones and Manor Farm. Upon retirement, Howard sold Greystones Farm and left the land and buildings to one of his sons- the late Thomas Buckle.

During Thomas Buckle's time at Manor Farm, he would lease the quarries to third parties and upon closure, they were also used as land fill sites and then covered over using relatively decent topsoil. Thomas Buckle would become father to my late grandfather, Thomas Geoffrey and they ended up working together on the farm producing grains and pigs.

Due to changing times and more mouths to feed, there was not enough income produced from the farm alone to support more than one family and so Geoffrey, in his 20s, decided to set up a business in plant and groundworks alongside the farm. Whilst doing so he decided to move spoil and stone using his own lorry. This is when he fell in love with haulage and so changed his business model to TB TG Nichols Bulk Haulage. You may remember the light blue and red wagons coming and going throughout the village.

Geoff married Rita Sanderson from Stokesley and they had 2 children, my late father Michael Thomas and my Auntie Katie. Both would help out on the farm occasionally when needed but there wasn't the work to sustain everybody in the family and so they both went out to work elsewhere and made a life of their own. Back in 1995, Geoffrey decided to retire from haulage and farm the land alone using help from contractors.

At the age of 13, I started to spend a lot of time helping out (or getting in the way) at Greystones Farm at the top of Seamer Village. Upon leaving school, I secured my first official job there and attended college one day per week to study agriculture. This gave me a really good footing and I cannot thank college enough for the encouragement they gave me.

At 19, I took the opportunity to become an agronomist for a large national company; they took me on as a trainee, trained me and put me through the qualifications needed to legally advise on crop production.

At 23, I had decided I wanted to tread my own path, so I resigned from that position and set up my own business offering crop production advice and chemical application. During these years, we had sadly lost both my mother and father to battles with cancer, and my late grandfather was starting to slow down due to health issues of his own. In 2018, I took on the role of farming the land and buildings at Manor Farm alongside my late grandfather, who sadly passed away that winter. I now farm the land in partnership with my gran, Rita.

Alongside the farming business at Manor Farm, I still offer an independent advice service to other local farmers and, more recently, the contracting services to farm the land on their behalf.

I contacted the Grapevine producers and asked if I could do a small column in the magazine with one thing in mind, to try to re-engage with consumers and to try to share accurate information about farming, food production and rural life. In today's fast paced world, it seems that we can all get caught up in our own little bubbles. It's always somebody else's problem or why should I care if they don't. Hopefully as the months go by, I can use this column to educate, provoke thought and answer any questions that derive from it.

AGRICULTURE OVER THE LAST FEW MONTHS?

Since August 2023, Wet, Wet, Wet..... (I feel it in my fingers, I feel it in my toes) no not them lot!

As a nation we have suffered the wettest 18 months since 1871, as farmers we do need the rain to get crops growing, and I know we are never happy. Its always either too dry or too wet but this year has been a wash out so far. At Manor Farm this autumn we have established a range of crops. We have winter wheat, used predominantly to produce animal feed at the local feed mill or bioethanol at the ENSUS plant on Teesside. We have established a field of grass, clover and herbs which will be used to build soil organic matter & produce natural healthy lambs for the butcher. Alongside that we have 2 alternative break crops in the crop rotation, we have winter oilseed rape which may not survive due to insect and pigeon damage and winter linseed. The oilseed rape, should it survive may be used for cold pressing to produce human consumption oil and the linseed will go for either seed production for next year or to a crushing plant to produce oil for pharmaceutical products.

The land here at Manor farm is relatively free draining, loamy soil and so it has coped with the wet weather better than most. Since the 1st January until 20th March, we have received 135.5mm of rain fall with some events reaching upwards of 25mm at once it seems relentless. The temperatures have been higher than average and there has been very little ground frost this winter. You may even notice that hedges and plants in your garden a springing into life earlier than perhaps they normally would.

Around the farm we have a small pheasant shoot where we rear the birds during the summer months and we shoot through the winter until the end of January. Some would say this is barbaric and everyone is entitled to their own opinion; however, it is just another means of farming food. Every bird that is taken on the farm is used as food just like you may buy chicken from the shop, we will use the pheasant in its place. It is the healthiest natural, low cholesterol meat you will find in fact it has higher protein, less fat and less cholesterol than chicken. Those that don't get taken will roam, breed or succumb to nature's end. As part of this we do establish areas around the farm to enhance natural habitats and provide food and shelter for roaming and wild birds. One of the species of wild birds that I am interested in is the English Grey Partridge. We do not shoot the English Grey Partridge as a rule as numbers are low. As farms pulled out hedges and crops were pushed for food production post war in the late 40s and 50s, the numbers of these birds declined. As part of what we are doing here at Manor Farm, the planting of new hedges, establishment of grass and flower margins, the supplementary feeding over the winter months and the careful control of vermin, I have recently counted 13 breeding pairs of English Grey Partridge and to me that is a great success in just 5 years. We continue to supplementary feed throughout the late winter into the spring months to ensure that there is adequate feed for the roaming and wild stock.

Crops have all received an application of Nitrogen and Sulphur 2 nutrients crucial to the production of amino acids and proteins within a plant to help them grow and produce a larger crop. Nitrogen and Sulphur can also have an adverse effect on both soil and water and that is why we are trying over time to reduce the total amounts used of both on farms. Since 2018 we have been able to reduce our total use of Nitrogen to 60% of what we used to use whilst in most cases maintaining output of produce. Obviously whilst trailing new methods there has been disasters along the way but that is how we learn. With some of the fields, whilst drier after the only frost in January, we managed to apply some rotted pig manure as a source of organic, slow-release nitrogen. Not only are we cycling nutrients but by doing this we are also helping to provide soil cover, food for worms (our natural drainage) debris for small mammals to nest with and providing longer term soil organic matter – The lifeblood of any soil.

At Manor Farm I am trying to farm with a real emphasis on the regeneration of soil and the wider environment. There are 5 key principles that I am trying to practice to make the Regenerative approach work. I will discuss more around these in the future columns.

1. Keep the soil covered
2. Do not till the soil
3. Maintain a living plant in the soil
4. Diverse plant species
5. Integrate livestock

Hopefully this has been interesting reading for you as an introduction and a brief update of what is happening in the fields around you. Hopefully next time if things go to plan, I should be able to introduce you to the 6th Generation and touch more on the principles of what we do on the farm and how things are looking at that point. If you have any questions feel free to email me and I will get back to you as soon as I can.

Regards, Matthew Nichols.

E MAIL SENT TO GRAPEVINE re SEAMER REMEMBRANCE MYSTERY FARTHINGS

I know it was in December last year that you sent Hilary and I the Grapevine article on the Memorial Hall and Remembrance tokens found in the old Blacksmiths building

However, we have not been idle over these past few months and have made lots of discoveries about men from Seamer who served during WW1.

The surprise might be that we have found thirty-three men with a connection to Seamer who joined the armed forces during WW1. All have interesting stories, but for some the lack of surviving military records shortens the tale. Although it is understandable why Thomas HUGILL might not have nailed a farthing up for some, others it is less clear. Allocating a name to each farthing may never be achievable.

The scroll in the Village Hall that records the four men who died during WW1 might need to be amended. Our research suggests that there could be a further three men added to that list.

We are currently doing our final reviews and then we will give it to a friend to proof read.

Our write up on these men, together with a brief story about the Thomas HUGILL and the CHANTRY's, and some detail on the Medals awarded to the combatants, covers about 32 pages of A4.

When we have the document finally proof read I will email you so that we can meet you, and any others, to discuss how we should next proceed. We have been looking at how the work could be split into sections, or instalments, so that it could be distributed over several issues of The Grapevine.
